Objectives

This course is an introduction to the main concepts related to managerial accounting and finance. This will allow the student to identify the measures to take in connection with company investing, bank lending to companies, and other decisions which can improve the performance of a firm.

According to the international differences in accounting and finance, the course is designed with an international orientation.

By other hand, the course will provide a critical perspective of accounting and finance dealing with topics like ethical perspectives of finance, creative accounting and accounts manipulation, in order to help the student to identify these practices.

This is not a book-keeping course because the topics are designed from the point of view of manager users.

Description

The main objective of the course is to provide students with a working understanding of the main concepts and techniques of accounting and finance.

Contents

Class 1: Designing balanced scorecards as corporate information systems

Evaluation criteria
Grading will be done through class participation (20%), class presentations of weekly assignments (30%), and final assignment (50%).

Final assignment: At the end of the course each student will write a report based on a real company applying the concepts studied in this course. This report can have the format of a case study with the proposal of solution. Some of these cases could be published by UPF..

IMPORTANT
“Students are required to attend 80% of classes. Failing to do so without justified reason can have important consequences in your final grade.

As with all courses taught at the UPF Barcelona School of Management, students who fail the course during regular evaluation will be allowed ONE re-take of the examination/evaluation. If the course is again failed after the re-take, students may have to register again for the course the following year.

Plagiarism is to use of another’s work and to present it as one’s own without attributing the sources in the correct way. All essays, reports or projects handed in by a student must be original work completed by the student. By enrolling at a Barcelona School of Management Master of Science and signing the “Honour Code,” students acknowledge that they understand the Barcelona School of Management’s policy on plagiarism and certify that all course assignments will be their own work, except where indicated by correct referencing. Failing to do so may result in automatic expulsion from the program.”
